DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-2 and 10-11, drawn to the method of using a gas producer to generate gases to drive turbine and steam engines, classified in class 48, subclass 197 R.
- II. Claim 3, drawn to the casting of molten slag, molten ash, etc, into useful patio blocks, construction blocks, and etc., classified in class 164, subclass 497.
- III. Claims 4-9, drawn to a gas producer and a water gas generator classified in class 60, subclass 39.5.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, the method of casting of molten slag into useful shapes such as a patio blocks and etc. has different function than the method of generating gases to drive a turbine and steam engines.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, the method of casting of molten slag into useful shapes such as a patio blocks and etc. has different mode of operation than the use of a gas producer and a water gas generator to generate rich hydrocarbon gases.

Inventions I and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus such as the use of a gas reformer to generate hot gas to drive a turbine or steam engine other than using a fuel bed or hot bed to decompose high molecular weight compound to generate gases.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant and/or Attorney's telephone number is not available on the record for contact and therefore, an oral election to the above restriction requirement was not made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
